Course Description

This course is a continuation of English 1301, which includes an introduction to literature and collateral readings. It also teaches students how to write a college-level research paper.

Scope/Purpose

English 1302 continues the purpose of English 1301: to help students to think well by helping them to write well. Unlike English 1301, English 1302 has a two-fold purpose: it encourages critical thinking by introducing the students to imaginative literature, to the modes of artistic thought, and to critical responses appropriate to these modes of thought.

Instructional Objectives

By the end of the course, students should have written a multiple source paper and at least two analytical papers in MLA style which demonstrate the ability:

- To practice and refine the skills of expository and argumentative writing already developed in English 1301;
- To understand the major elements of literature as these are highlighted by the instructor;
- To apply critical thinking to the study of literature and to write essays which demonstrate that critical thinking, such as summary, paraphrase, synthesis, and single-source assignments;
- To use a library for research purposes; to research and write an accurately documented paper.

Requirements

1. Students will read numerous short stories and poems, will participate in class discussions of the readings, and will be tested over their understanding of the readings through quizzes, examinations, and/or written assignments.
2. Students will complete one or more written assignments which may include, but not be limited to, one multi-source research paper, two or more shorter papers (summary, synthesis, critique, explication), or a series of research questions or projects.
3. Individual instructors may also require major examinations over the readings or any part of the course content.

- Individual instructors may occasionally use film, stage productions, or other art forms to support the text, in which case students may also be tested over their understanding of content or of differences between the written text and the alternate presentation of that text.

Communication

I usually check email Monday – Thursday from 8:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. and Friday from 8:00 a.m. – noon. I do not check email in the evenings or on the weekends. While I encourage you to send an email any time you need anything, regardless of the time of day, please take my response times into account. I will respond to your message as soon as I can on the next business day. I have arranged due dates in a way that nothing will be due on outside of the times I respond to email.

I expect the same attention to email correspondence from you. I do not ask that you return my emails on evenings or weekends, but please be attentive to any message I send at your earliest convenience. Of course, if your schedule is such that responding during times outside of business hours works best for you, please do.

Your South Plains College email is the official communication for this course.

Attendance and Participation Policy

Regular, consistent attendance is required for this course. Any class session or activity missed, regardless of cause, reduces the opportunity for learning and may adversely affect a student's achievement. Accordingly, this course requires student attendance and participation in order for students to remain enrolled in this class.

Students who are on time and prepared for class will receive a 100 for the day.

Students who are late, absent, leave early, or do not observe the technology rules will receive a 0 for that day.

Students who accumulate four attendance zeros will be dropped from the class.

Be advised – I do not accept late work for any reason. If you are absent, you are still required to complete the assigned work by the indicated due date and are still required to demonstrate the concepts you missed in your writing.

You cannot make up tests. You cannot make up small group workshops. You cannot make up in-class quizzes and assignments. I do not provide lectures or PowerPoint slides in Blackboard. I will not tell you what you missed when you return to class or through email. It will be your responsibility to get the information you missed from a classmate.

Please notify me when you are going to be out of town for a school sponsored event. I will let you work ahead so that you don't miss any deadlines. However, please know that no exceptions will be made to the late assignment policy.

Grading Policy

Final grades will be assigned based on the following percentages:

Reading Pre-Tests (average of all)	10%
Research Project – Enumerative Bibliography	5%
Research Project – Annotative Bibliography	5%
Research Project – Thesis Statement and Formal Outline	10%
Research Project – Rough Draft	10%
Research Project – Peer Review	10%
Research Project – Final Paper	20%
Literary Analysis #1	10%
Literary Analysis #2	10%

It is up to you, the student, to monitor your average and course progress. If at any time you feel that you need to discuss your course progress with me, it is your responsibility to make contact. You can find your current average via the 'Gradebook' link in Blackboard.

Reading Assignments

Mandatory, assigned reading is a requirement for this course. Reading assignments can be found on the calendar in Blackboard. Any information discussed in the assigned reading may be included on your exams, even if it was not mentioned explicitly in the lecture.

Reading Pre-Tests

It will be particularly important for you to read the fiction assignments prior to coming to class so that you may participate in class discussion. To ensure that you're doing this, you will be required to complete a reading pre-test before the beginning of each week. The pre-tests will be computer-based. They will open on Friday evening and must be submitted by Sunday at midnight. Consult the reading schedule to see what should be read for each reading pre-test, and be sure – before you start the pre-test – to read the stories/selections very carefully. You will not have time, once the pre-test begins, to look up answers. I do not accept late work for any reason.

Notes

You are expected to take notes during every scheduled lecture; these notes will help you with both your writing and your exams. You should have a paper, pen, and your book on your desk at all times, and be taking notes while I lecture – no exceptions. Failure to do this will result in a 0 for participation for that day.

Research Project

You will be required to complete a multi-part research project over the course of the semester. Details for these assignments can be found in Blackboard. Late work will not be accepted for any reason.

Discussion

Discussion of the literature we read is an important part of this course. We will have general discussions during our class meeting, and every student will be required to participate. You are expected to be able to discuss, intelligently, the reading that was assigned for that day, and relate that reading to the concepts we've discussed in class. Failure to participate will affect your attendance and participation grade.

Due Dates

Due dates are posted on the course calendar, and are firm. I do not grant extensions or allow late work for any reason. Work submitted after the due date will not be evaluated and will receive a grade of 0.

You assume the responsibility for your technology. I suggest three things:

1. Have a backup plan in place from day one, just in case your technology fails.
2. After submitting an assignment, return to the assignment submission before the due date and make sure it's been submitted properly. If it's not submitted properly by the due date, you will not receive credit for it, regardless of whether or not you thought the paper had submitted.
3. Don't wait until the last minute to submit assignments. If you have trouble, but no one is available to help you, you will still not be able to submit the assignment late.

You are responsible for making sure your work has been submitted properly.

Assignment Submission

I cannot accept any assignment via email, for any reason. All files must be submitted via the assignment tool in the Blackboard modules. It is your responsibility to make sure the assignment submitted properly before the due date. No documents will be accepted after the submission deadline has passed, for any reason.

Additionally, all files must be submitted as .docx documents (Microsoft Word). I cannot accept .gdoc, .pages, .odt, .rtf, or .txt files. If you submit anything other than a .docx file, you will be given a 0 for that assignment and will not be allowed to make it up.

Please note: any composition submitted that is not at least half of the minimum required length will receive a grade of a zero.

I cannot accept any assignment via email, for any reason. All files will be submitted via Dropbox.

Style Guide

We will use the APA style guide for formatting and documentation in this course. Specific rules regarding this particular style guide can be found in The Little Seagull Handbook that you purchased for this course. All documents you submit should be formatting using APA standards, and all citations you write, whether in-text or on a References page, should follow APA guidelines for citation.

In-Class Computer and Cell Phone Use

Students will not be allowed to use any electronics in this course, including but not limited to cell phones, tablets, or laptop computers. Failure to adhere to this policy will affect your attendance and participation grade. If it is a persistent issue, you will be asked to leave class.

Academic Integrity

It is the aim of the faculty at South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences and possible suspension. Please refer to the SPC General Catalog regarding consequences for cheating and plagiarism.

Do not, under any circumstances, turn in another student's work as your own. Do not, under any circumstances, give your work to anyone else to turn in as their own. Both situations are representative of academic dishonesty and will be treated as such.

I have zero tolerance for cheaters. If I suspect you of cheating, I will drop you without discussion. Please trust me when I say I have ways of determining whether or not you've cheated that you can't get around, as smart as you are. ;-)

Student Code of Conduct

Any successful learning experience requires mutual respect on the part of the student and the instructor. Neither instructor nor student should be subject to others' behavior that is rude, disruptive, intimidating, aggressive, or demeaning. Student conduct which disrupts the learning process or is deemed disrespectful or threatening shall not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action and/or removal from class.
